

Ian Redmond OBE

1967-1972

Ian Redmond OBE is a tropical field biologist and conservationist, specialising in his work with gorillas and elephants.

He worked with Sir David Attenborough in 1978 for the BBC's Life on Earth gorilla sequences and also with Sigourney Weaver when she appeared in Gorillas in the Mist in 1987.

He is a conservation consultant and advisor for organisations such as: Born Free Foundation, The Gorilla Organization, Orangutan Foundation and The International Fund for Animal Welfare. He also established and chairs The Ape Alliance (www.4apes.com), the African Ele-Fund and the UK Rhino Group.

Ian Redmond was appointed OBE in 2006 and was also awarded an honorary doctorate from Oxford Brookes University in 2011.